

perspectives

Photographs by Mark McCall

Mark McCall is a family man. He is also recognized publicly as one of Maine's most sought-after wedding photographers, known for his compelling photojournalistic style. In these photographs we are invited into his home. A quiet man, McCall moves among a scene in an almost stealth-like manner. "I guess I just want to remember things the way they are," he says. "And in some ways, maybe a little more than what they are. The tantrums more tragic, the tragedies more ordinary."

perspectives

